Joe counsels clients on the preparation and prosecution of patent applications, with particular expertise in the electrical and computer-related arts.

He leverages his 20-years of aerospace and communications industry experience to provide valuable IP counseling and patent-related guidance to clients, focusing on wireless communications and software.

Before joining Holland & Hart, Joe was a patent attorney for an IP specialty firm in Oklahoma City. As a veteran of the U.S. Air Force, he gained valuable experience in advanced electronics and telecommunications systems. During that time, he also developed a keen insight into many aspects of the aerospace industry. He continues to grow and leverage that knowledge.
