BAR ADMISSIONS

Colorado

He defends companies and individuals in government investigations. He also represents clients in related civil and criminal litigation. Featured as a Band 1 lawyer by Chambers USA, he "is lauded for his expertise in white collar crime and government investigations, with sources enthusing that he is 'as good as it comes.'" Greg is also recognized in The Best Lawyers in America® and as a "Top 50 Lawyer" by Colorado Super Lawyers®, and holds an AV Preeminent 5.0 out of 5.0 rating by Martindale Hubbell.

Greg served in the US Department of Justice where he received the Director's Award from the US Attorney General for superior performance as a federal prosecutor. He also served as a law clerk to the Hon. Paul J. Kelly, Jr. of the US Court of Appeals for the 10th Circuit.

EXPERIENCE

Greg helps clients facing inquiries by the Department of Justice, including the US Attorney's Offices, Tax Division, and federal and state agencies such as the EPA, FBI, HHS, OIGs, SEC, DOL, MSHA, FTC, DHS, BLM, DOT, and IRS. Greg counsels clients confronting critical events, such as allegations of healthcare, government contracting, financial fraud, oil spills, environmental contamination, workplace incidents, search warrants, government interviews of employees, and grand jury subpoenas.

Greg also defends clients in complex civil fraud cases, including under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO) and in every phase of False Claims Act (FCA) proceedings, including government investigation and declination, litigation with relators and DOJ, the Granston Memo, suspension and debarment, and appeal. Greg also counsels clients, including museums and collectors, in responding to inquiries by foreign nations and the state and federal governments regarding the provenance, repatriation, and forfeiture of pieces of artwork.

He has tried more than 20 federal trials, including matters that fall under FCA and RICO statutes.
