Allly helps healthcare clients navigate regulatory and compliance matters, with an emphasis on assessing regulatory risks and impacts on transactions and M&A activity.

Allly assists buyers, sellers, and operators in the healthcare industry with federal and state regulatory compliance, including physician self-referral laws such as Stark, anti-kickback statutes, civil monetary penalties laws, anti-trust, and licensing. She also counsels providers, facilities, and affiliated entities on matters related to Medicare and Medicaid programs.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Ally worked as an attorney at a Boise law firm.
