Devin leads and manages practitioners working on high-volume portfolios for industry leading technology companies.

Devin supervises aspects of the work of our team of patent agents and engineers in the strategic preparation and prosecution of high value portfolios in electrical, electronics, and computer science technologies. This work includes the preparation and prosecution of patent applications, and the preparation of claim charts.

Devin is a registered Patent Agent with the USPTO.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Devin served as a patent agent at two large law firms and started his career as a seismic engineer with a global technology company.
