With over two decades of experience, Andrea advises clients across a broad range of industries on securities law requirements, corporate governance, and corporate law matters.

Andrea counsels public companies on their ongoing SEC disclosure and compliance issues, including periodic SEC reporting, stock exchange listing requirements, proxy statements, investor relations, and executive compensation matters. She also advises clients on corporate governance matters, including Board and committee oversight responsibilities, Board and committee structures, fiduciary duties, annual stockholders' meetings, proxy advisory firm policies, and shareholder proposals. Andrea has experience representing clients in securities offerings and other securities transactions.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Andrea served as Counsel at an Am Law 100 law firm and as Senior Counsel at a public company.
