

Jane Michaels

Senior Counsel
303.295.8162
Denver
jmichaels@hollandhart.com

Tips for Effective Advocacy in Arbitration

Insight — 4/12/2018

Republished with permission from Colorado Lawyer. Original article appeared in Colorado Lawyer, Vol. 47, No. 4, April 2018.

Parties to arbitration proceedings frequently comment that they appreciate the arbitration process because it is a faster, more efficient, and less costly way to resolve their business disputes. Unlike litigation, arbitration provides the parties with an opportunity to exercise significant control over the entire proceeding—from the expedited exchange of information to the prompt resolution of discovery disputes, to the determination of customized procedures for the hearing on the merits.

This article explores the benefits of arbitration over litigation and provides practical pointers for trial lawyers who want to sharpen their advocacy skills in arbitration. In addition, the article also includes 10 tips for effective advocacy in arbitration.

Please see full publication for more information: Effective Advocacy in Arbitration

This publication is designed to provide general information on pertinent legal topics. The statements made are provided for educational purposes only. They do not constitute legal or financial advice nor do they necessarily reflect the views of Holland & Hart LLP or any of its attorneys other than the author(s). This publication is not intended to create an attorney-client relationship between you and Holland & Hart LLP. Substantive changes in the law subsequent to the date of this publication might affect the analysis or commentary. Similarly, the analysis may differ depending on the jurisdiction or circumstances. If you have specific questions as to the application of the law to your activities, you should seek the advice of your legal counsel.